

Nye County Health and Human Services hosted a program of Workforce Training consisting of interactive classes providing instruction and knowledge to improve employability